About the Deloitte Technology Fast50

The Deloitte Technology Fast50 competition is an annual selection of the 50 fastest growing and innovative technology companies headquartered in Belgium. Public or private companies who develop a technology related product or service and who have experienced substantial revenue growth over the last five years can enter the competition for their chance to be nominated as one of the 50 fastest-growing technology companies in Belgium.

Companies that have been active in the technology sector for less than five years can participate in the special Rising Star category of the competition. These companies are judged by an independent jury on their turnover potential and scalability.

Participating in the Deloitte Fast50 competition can help companies to develop their business by increasing their visibility and giving them access to the Fast50's unique network of highly successful executives.
